

The crash courses for the 2026–2027 academic year will be delivered in hybrid format. Students may attend either in person or online via Microsoft Teams.

Attendance is strongly recommended, particularly for Students who have not previously completed university-level coursework in mathematics, econometrics, microeconomics or macroeconomics. The concepts and methods covered during the crash courses will provide the foundation for the more advanced material taught during the programme.

Information on classrooms and Microsoft Teams links is provided below.

Preparatory Course in Mathematics (Prof. Davide Lauria)

- Tuesday, September 1, h. 9:00 – 10:00 – Aula 13 Caniana
- Tuesday, September 8, h. 9:00 – 12:00 – Aula 13 Caniana
- Wednesday, September 9, h. 9:00 – 12:00 – Aula 13 Caniana
- Thursday, September 10, h. 9:00 – 12:00 – Aula 13 Caniana
- Thursday, September 10, h. 14:00 – 17:00 – Aula 13 Caniana
- Saturday, September 12, h. 9:00 – 12:00 – Aula 13 Caniana

Introductory Econometrics (Dr. Mattia Filomena) – Link to MS Teams

- Monday, August 31, h. 9:00–12:00
- Monday, August 31, h. 15:00–18:00
- Tuesday, September 1, h. 15:00–18:00
- Wednesday, September 2, h. 15:00–18:00
- Thursday, September 3, h. 8:00–10:00
- Friday, September 4, h. 8:00–10:00
- Monday, September 7, h. 15:00–18:00
- Tuesday, September 8, h. 15:00–18:00
- Wednesday, September 9, h. 15:00–17:00

Introductory Microeconomics and Macroeconomics (Prof. Raffaele Fiocco and Dr. Giampaolo Lecce) - Link to MS Teams

- Tuesday, September 1, h. 12:00–15:00
- Wednesday, September 2, h. 12:00–15:00
- Thursday, September 3, h. 10:00–13:00

- Friday, September 4, h. 10:00–13:00
- Saturday, September 5, h. 10:00–13:00
- Monday, September 7, h. 10:00–13:00
- Friday, September 11, h. 9:00–12:00
- Friday, September 11, h. 14:00–17:00